represented to Government that supply is inadequate in the ayacuts, and the supply has to be arranged to serve the legitimate ayacut with great difficulty and judiciousness.

It may thus be seen that regular supply was allowed in the Pullambadi canal for four months from 1st November 1963. The Government regret that any further supply could not be given to the Pullambadi Canal, as it will affect the supply to the legitimate ayacut of the Cauvery delta.
